A Tenant's Guide to Your Security Deposit

Every security deposit NOVOURQ takes for a property in Jamaica is held in a dedicated NOVOURQ Client Account with Metro Bank. This account holds tenants' money only — it is kept completely separate from the company's own business funds. When we take your deposit we will:

1. Lodge your deposit in the NOVOURQ Client Account within 7 days of receiving it, and
2. Give you a Deposit Certificate confirming the amount held, where it is held and the property it relates to, within 14 days of receiving it.

This process is designed to keep your money safe for the whole tenancy and make sure that, if entitled, you get it back promptly.

Note: In this leaflet, "we", "us" and "NOVOURQ" mean NOVOURQ acting as landlord or as managing agent for the property owner.

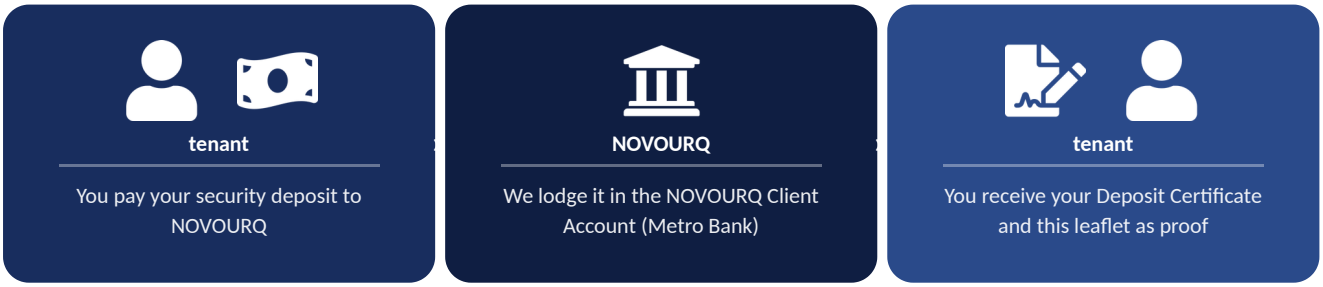

Our commitments to you

- Your deposit is ring-fenced — it is never used to pay company expenses, rent to owners or operating costs.
- It is held in Jamaican dollars (JMD), or the currency you paid in, and returned in the same currency.
- You can ask us at any time for written confirmation that your deposit is still held in the Client Account.
- No deduction is made without written notice and supporting evidence.

About the NOVOURQ Client Account

The Client Account is a designated business account with Metro Bank, operated by NOVOURQ solely to hold money belonging to tenants and clients. Funds are recorded against each tenancy so your deposit can be identified at all times. At the end of your tenancy the agreed amount is paid from the Client Account directly back to you.

How your deposit is protected with NOVOURQ

What is the Deposit Certificate?

The Deposit Certificate is our written confirmation that your deposit is held in the NOVOURQ Client Account. It shows your name, the property address, the amount paid, the date received and the date lodged. It should be signed by NOVOURQ, and you are given the opportunity to sign it to confirm you agree with the details. This Information for Tenants leaflet forms part of that pack and explains how to get your deposit back and what to do if you disagree with any deductions.

End of the tenancy

You should request the return of your deposit at the end of the tenancy in writing (email or letter) and keep a copy of your request. Please include the bank account you would like it paid into. If you do not contact us, we will hold your deposit safely in the Client Account until we hear from you — the onus is on you to request it back.

Deposit deductions

We may propose deductions for unpaid rent or bills, damage beyond fair wear and tear, missing items or cleaning, measured against your check-in inventory. If so, we will send you an itemised list with photos, invoices or quotes. We will return any undisputed amount within 14 days of your request or the check-out inspection, whichever is later. If you do not agree with a deduction you can raise a dispute with us within 30 days of receiving our proposal.

TOP TIP: Take dated photos when you move in and move out. If you haven't heard from us within 14 days of your request, raise a dispute.

How disputes are resolved

Disputes are reviewed by a senior NOVOURQ manager who was not involved in the check-out. You explain what you are disputing; we must provide evidence to justify each proposed deduction. The reviewer considers the evidence from both sides and gives you a written decision within 14 days. The disputed amount stays in the Client Account throughout and is paid out once the decision is made. If you remain unhappy, you are free to seek independent advice or pursue the matter through the Parish Courts of Jamaica.

Notifying us of a dispute

Email contact.us@thenovourq.com with the subject "Deposit Dispute", your name, the property address, the amounts you disagree with and why, plus any photos or documents. Any one tenant on a joint tenancy can raise a dispute, provided their name is on the Deposit Certificate and they confirm they are acting on behalf of the other tenants. We will acknowledge your dispute within 3 working days.
